The People's Open Network is a local, community-owned Internet that embodies freedom and trust.

What if, when you're not using the Internet, you could share it safely with your community?

We encourage you to open your networks and share unused bandwidth. In this way, you can split the cost of access and provide connectivity to households that would otherwise have none. Eventually, we can have seamless coverage of public spaces all over Oakland.

Want to learn more? Visit us at peoplesopen.net

Or come to a learning session at _____ on _____